SELF- REVIEW PRACTICE MONITORING TOOL

- A. PART A: OVERVIEW OF THE SELF -REVIEW PRACTICE MONITORING TOOL
- As part of the measures the Registration Committee has put in place to monitor compliance with professional standards and fulfill the requirements of Statement of Membership Obligation, the Registration Committee shall roll out this selfreview monitoring tool to ALL practitioners with effect from
- This tool is geared towards enabling individual firms carry out a self-review based on the level of compliance with applicable standards. It gives a firm an opportunity to gauge the major areas of non-compliance and subsequently based on need, call upon the Institute to enhance the firm's level of compliance.
- Firms will be selected for reviews primarily based on their risk profiles identified from a desktop review of the information submitted in this tool. This process will analyse the units' responses in the tool and other relevant information.
- 4. All firms shall complete the self-review monitoring tool every two years or when called upon to do so by the Institute. However, should a firm's processes and any information submitted earlier significantly change before the two-year period, the firm should communicate such changes to the Institute;
- This tool will collect the following information about a firm
  - (a) organisation and management of the firm;
  - (b) quality control policies and procedures established by the firm;
  - (c) engagement review; and
  - (d) client profile of the firm.
- 6. The tool mostly contains questions of a "Yes / No" answer, but some questions such as those on the organization and management of the firm, and client profile information require quantitative data. Some questions also require narrative answers. In general, a "N/A" answer should not be selected unless in the circumstances specified in this questionnaire.
- The tool provides the following benefits
  - (a) enables a firm to pro-actively manage its own operations;
  - gives a firm an opportunity to point out its own weaknesses and hence enhance its own capacity to address the weaknesses;
  - gives an insight to the firm's staffing needs as well as the need to address the gaps identified through training;
  - (d) provides a justification to the Institute on why a firm needs considerable support or no support hence the Institute can utilize its technical team to enhance compliance in a more deserving practice unit;
  - (e) prepares the firm for the Institute's programme review;
  - serves as a pointer for setting performance targets to member or staff of a firm in practice;

- (g) guides the Institute in developing the annual training calendar; and,
- (h) gives the Institute an overview of the governance structure of the firms.

Note:

- Practitioners are advised to fill the tool with total honesty for it to achieve the intended objectives.
- The firm should retain information and supporting documentation used in the completion of this tool and avail it for reference or review by the Institute Reviewer(s) during site visits.

- The Appeals Committee shall review the matter within thirty days of receipt of the appeal.
- The Appeals Committee shall communicate its decision to the Council upon completion of the hearing of the appeal which may —
  - (a) uphold the decision of the Council to withdraw the Award; or
  - (b) reinstate the award.
- The decision of the Appeals Committee shall be communicated to the Council and the recommendation adopted by the Council.
- 33. Where the Council decides to withdraw the award, the Council shall authorize the Chief Executive Officer of the Institute to notify members and the public through media of nationwide circulation that the Member or Honorary Fellow has been stripped of the award.
- 34. The records of these proceedings and the decision shall be kept in safe custody and the member's records in the Institute's databases and mailing lists shall be amended accordingly.
- H. REVIEW AND AMENDMENTS
- These Guidelines shall be reviewed every two years or at any other time as may be deemed fit by the Council.

SECOND SCHEDULE

STANDARDS OF PROFESSIONAL ACCOUNTANCY PRACTICE AND ETHICAL CONDUCT

PART I: GENERAL APPLICATION OF THE CODE

- The Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants includes provisions as prescribed by the International Federation of Accountants through the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants together with specific requirements under the Kenyan context.
- A member body of International Federation of Accountants or firm may not apply less stringent standards than those stated in that Code.
- 3. A member of the Institute is guilty of professional misconduct if such member commits any offence under section 30 (1).
- 4. The observance of this Code complies with the provision of that section.
- The Council shall inquire into apparent failure by a member to observe the ethical requirements and may refer the matter to the Disciplinary Committee in accordance with section 32(1) of the Accountants Act.
- The Disciplinary Committee shall after inquiry make recommendations to the Council on the action to be taken against the member in accordance with section 33 of the Act.

A. FUNDAMENTAL PRINCIPLES

 A professional accountant is required to comply with the following fundamental principles —

Issue	Principles or Values
Integrity	A professional accountant should be straightforward and honest in all professional and business relationships.
Objectivity	A professional accountant should not allow bias, conflict of interest or undue influence of others to override professional or business judgments.
Professional Competence an Due Care	A professional accountant has a continuing duty to maintain diprofessional knowledge and skill at the level required to ensure that a client or employer receives competent professional service based on current developments in practice, legislation and techniques.  A professional accountant shall act diligently and in accordance with applicable technical and professional standards when providing professional services.
Confidentiality	A professional accountant shall respect the confidentiality of information acquired as a result of professional and business relationships and should not disclose any such information to third parties without proper and specific authority unless there is a legal or professional right or duty to disclose.

	Confidential information acquired as a result of professional and business relationships should not be used for the personal advantage of the professional accountant or third parties.
Professional Behavior	A professional accountant should comply with relevant laws and regulations and should avoid any action that discredits the profession.

B. THREATS AND SAFEGUARDS

- (1) Compliance with the fundamental principles may potentially be threatened by a broad range of circumstances.
- (2) Threats fall into the following categories -
  - (a) self-interest threats which may occur as a result of the financial or other interests of a professional accountant or of an immediate or close family;
  - (b) self-review threats, which may occur when a previous judgment needs to be revaluated by the professional accountant responsible for that judgment;
  - advocacy threats, which may occur when a professional accountant promotes a position or opinion to the point that subsequent objectivity may be compromised;
  - (d) familiarity threats, which may occur when, because of a close relationship, a professional accountant becomes too sympathetic to the interests of others;
     and
  - (e) intimidation threats, which may occur when a professional accountant may be deterred from acting objectively by threats, actual or perceived.

C. SAFEGUARDS

- Safeguards that may eliminate or reduce such threats to an acceptable level are categorized into two —
  - (a) safeguards created by the profession, legislation or regulation; and
  - (b) safeguards in the work environment.

D. ETHICAL CONFLICT RESOLUTION

- In evaluating compliance with the fundamental principles, a professional accountant may be required to resolve a conflict in the application of fundamental principles.
- When initiating either a formal or informal conflict, a professional accountant should be able to identify —
  - (a) relevant facts;
  - (b) ethical issues involved;

- (c) fundamental principles related to the matter in question;
- (d) established internal procedures; and
- (e) alternative courses of action.

PART B: PROFESSIONAL ACCOUNTANTS IN PUBLIC PRACTICE OR LICENSED PROFESSIONAL ACCOUNTANTS AND FIRMS

- This Part of the Schedule illustrates how the conceptual framework is to be applied by professional accountants in public practice.
- 13. A professional accountant in public practice shall not engage in any business, occupation or activity that impairs or might impair integrity, objectivity or the good reputation of the profession.
- A. THREATS AND SAFEGUARDS
- 14. Threats can be categorized into -
  - (a) self-interest;
  - (b) self-review;
  - (c) advocacy;
  - (d) familiarity; and
  - (e) intimidation.
- 15. The nature and significance of the threats may differ depending on whether they arise in relation to the provision of services to a financial statement audit client, a no-financial statement audit assurance client or a non- assurance client.
- Safeguards that may eliminate or reduce threats to an acceptable level fall into two broad categories —
  - (a) safeguards created by the profession, legislation or regulation; and
  - (b) safeguards in the work environment.
- 17. In the work environment, the relevant safeguards will vary depending on the circumstances for instance work environment safeguards comprise firm-wide safeguards and engagement specific safeguards.
- A professional accountant in public practice shall exercise judgment to determine how to best deal with an identified threat.
- 19. In exercising this judgment, a professional accountant in public practice should consider what a reasonable and informed third party, having knowledge of all relevant information, including the significance of the threat and the safeguards applied, would reasonably conclude to be acceptable.
- This consideration will be affected by matters such as the significance of the threat, the nature of the engagement and the structure of the firm.
- B. PROFESSIONAL APPOINTMENT
- Client Acceptance —

- Before accepting a new client relationship, a professional accountant in public practice shall consider whether acceptance would create any threats to compliance with the fundamental principles.
- (2) Potential threats to integrity or professional behaviour may be created from, for example, questionable issues associated with the client (its owners, management and activities).
- (3) Appropriate safeguards may include obtaining knowledge and understanding of the client, its owners, managers and those responsible for its governance and business activities, or securing the client's commitment to improve corporate governance practices or internal controls.

C. CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

- (1)A professional accountant in public practice shall take reasonable steps to identify circumstances that could pose a conflict of interest.
- (2) Such circumstances may give rise to threats to compliance with the fundamental principles for instance, a threat to objectivity may be created when a professional accountant in public practice competes directly with a client or has a joint venture or similar arrangement with a major competitor of a client and thereafter evaluate any threats that may rise.
- (3) Depending therefore on the circumstances giving rise the conflict, safeguards should ordinarily include the professional accountant in public practice —
  - (a) notifying the client of the firm's business interest or activities that may represent a conflict of interest, and obtaining their consent to act in such circumstances; or
  - (b) notifying all known relevant parties that the professional accountant in public practice is acting for two or more parties in respect of a matter where their respective interests are in conflict, and obtaining their consent to so act; or
  - (c) notifying the client that the professional accountant in public practice does not act exclusively for any one client in the provision of proposed services for example, in a particular market sector or with respect to a specific service and obtaining their consent to so act.
- 23. Where a conflict of interest poses a threat to one or more of the fundamental principles, including objectivity, confidentiality or professional behaviour that cannot be eliminated or reduced to an acceptable level through the application of safeguards, the professional accountant in public practice should conclude that it is not appropriate to accept a specific engagement or that resignation from one or more conflicting engagements is required.

D. SECOND OPINIONS

24. Occurs in a situation where a professional accountant in public practice is asked to provide a second opinion on the application of accounting, auditing, reporting or other standards or principles to specific circumstances or transactions by or on behalf of a company or an entity that is not an existing client which may give rise to threats to compliance with the fundamental principles.

- 25. The significance of the threat in this case will depend on the circumstances of the request and all the other available facts and assumptions relevant to the expression of a professional judgment.
- E. FEES AND OTHER TYPES OF REMUNERATION
- 26. When entering into negotiations regarding professional services, a professional accountant in public practice may quote a fee that he or she deems appropriate.
- 27. A professional accountant in public practice who quotes a fee lower than another is not unethical but there may be threats to compliance with the fundamental principles arising from the level of fees quoted for instance, a self interest threat to professional competence and due care is created if the fee quoted is so low that it may be difficult to perform the engagement in accordance with applicable technical and professional standards for that price.
- 28. The significance of the threats will depend on factors such as the level of fee quoted and the services to which it applies.
- In view of these potential threats, safeguards should be considered and applied as necessary to eliminate them or reduce them to an acceptable level.
- 30. Safeguards that may be adopted include -
  - (a) making the client aware of the terms of the engagement and, in particular, the basis on which fees are charged and which services are covered by the quoted fee;
  - (b) assigning appropriate time and qualified staff to the task.
- 31. A professional accountant in public practice may also pay a referral fee to obtain a client, for example, where the client continues as a client of another professional accountant in public practice but requires specialist services not offered by the existing accountant.
- The payment of such a referral fee may also create a self-interest threat to objectivity and professional competence and due care.
- 33. A professional accountant in public practice shall not pay or receive a referral fee or commission, unless the professional accountant in public practice has established safeguards to eliminate the threats or reduce them to an acceptable level.
- 34. Such safeguards may include -
  - (a) disclosing to the client any arrangements to pay a referral fee to another professional accountant for the work referred;
  - (b) disclosing to the client any arrangements to receive a referral fee for referring the client to another professional accountant in public practice;
  - (c) obtaining advance agreement from the client for commission arrangements in connection with the sale by a third party of goods or services to the client.
- F. MARKETING PROFESSIONAL SERVICES
- 35. When a professional accountant in public practice solicits new work through advertising or other forms of marketing, there may be potential threats to compliance with the fundamental principles.

- A professional accountant in public practice should not bring the profession into disrepute when marketing professional services.
- The professional accountant in public practice shall be honest and truthful and shall not —
  - (a) make exaggerated claims for services offers, qualifications possessed or experience gained; or
  - (b) make disparaging references to unsubstantiated comparisons to the work of another.
- 38. If the professional accountant in public practice is in doubt whether a proposed form of advertising or marketing is appropriate, the professional accountant in public practice should consult with the relevant professional body.

G. CUSTODY OF CLIENT ASSETS

- 39. A professional accountant in public practice shall not assume custody of client monies or other assets unless permitted to do so by law and, if so, in compliance with any additional legal duties imposed on a professional accountant in public practice holding such assets.
- 40. The holding of client assets creates threats to compliance with the fundamental principles for instance there is a self-interest threat to professional behaviour and may be a self-interest threat to objectivity arising from holding client assets.
- To safeguard against such threats, a professional accountant in public practice entrusted with money or other assets belonging to others shall —
  - (a) keep such assets separately from personal or firm assets;
  - (b) use such assets only for the purpose for which they are intended;
  - (c) at all times, be ready to account for those assets, and any income, dividends or gains generated, to any persons entitled to such accounting; and
  - (d) comply with all relevant laws and regulations relevant to the holding of and accounting for such assets.

H. OBJECTIVITY-ALL SERVICES

- 42. A professional accountant in public practice shall when providing any professional services consider whether there are threats to compliance with the fundamental principle of objectivity resulting from having interests in, or relationships with, a client or directors, officers or employees.
- 43. A professional accountant in public practice shall evaluate the significance of identified threats and, if they are other than clearly insignificant, safeguards shall be considered and applied as necessary to eliminate them or reduce them to an acceptable level.
- 44. Such safeguards may include -
  - (a) withdrawing from the engagement team;
  - (b) supervisory procedures;

- (c) terminating the financial or business relationship giving rise to the threat;
- (d) discussing the issue with higher levels of management within the firm;
- (e) discussing the issue with those charged with governance of the client.

INDEPENDENCE-ASSURANCE ENGAGEMENTS

- 45. In the case of an assurance engagement, it is in the public interest and, therefore, required by the Code of Ethics, that members of assurance teams, firms and, when applicable, network firms be independent of assurance clients.
- 46. Assurance engagements are designed to enhance intended users' degree of confidence about the outcome of the evaluation or measurement of a subject matter against criteria.
- 47. The International Framework for Assurance Engagements (the Assurance Framework) issued by the International Auditing and Assurance Standards Board describes the elements and objectives of an assurance engagement and identifies engagements to which International Standards on Auditing (ISAs), International Standards on Review Engagements (ISREs) and International Standards on Assurance Engagements (ISAEs) apply.
- 48. For a description of the elements and objectives of an assurance engagement reference shall be made to the Assurance Framework.

OBJECTIVE AND STRUCTURE

- 49. The objective of this section is to assist firms and members of assurance teams in
  - (a) identifying threats to independence;
  - (b) evaluating whether these threats are clearly insignificant; and
  - (c) in cases when the threats are not clearly insignificant, identifying and applying appropriate safeguards to eliminate or reduce the threats to an acceptable level.
- 50. It is important to consider what a reasonable and informed third party having knowledge of all relevant information; including safeguards applied would reasonably conclude to be unacceptable.
- 51. In situations when no safeguards are available to reduce the threat to an acceptable level, the only possible actions are to compromise, eliminate the activities or interest creating the threat, or to refuse to accept or continue the assurance engagement.
- 52. When threats to independence that are not clearly insignificant are identified, and the firm decides to accept or continue the assurance engagement, the decision shall be documented.
- 53. The documentation shall include a description of the threats identified and the safeguards applied to eliminate or reduce the threats to an acceptable level.
- Firms should establish policies and procedures relating to independence, communications with audit committees or others charged with governance of the client.

- 55. In the case of the financial statement audit of listed entities, the firm shall communicate orally and in writing at least annually, all relationships and other matters between the firm, network firms and the financial statement audit client that in the firm's professional judgment may reasonably be thought to bear on independence.
- K. PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO ALL ASSURANCE CLIENTS
- 56. If a member of the assurance team, or their immediate family member, has a direct financial interest, or a material indirect financial interest, in the assurance client, the self-interest threat created would be so significant that the only safeguards available to eliminate the threat or reduce it to an acceptable level would be to
  - (a) dispose of the direct financial interest prior to the individual becoming a member of the assurance team;
  - (b) dispose of the indirect financial interest in total;
  - (c) dispose of a sufficient amount of it so that the remaining interest is no longer material prior to the individual becoming a member of the assurance team; or
  - (d) remove the member of the assurance team from the assurance engagement.
- L. PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO FINANCIAL STATEMENT AUDIT CLIENTS
- 57. If a firm, or a network firm, has a direct financial interest in a financial statement audit client of the firm the self-interest threat created would be so significant no safeguard could reduce the threat to an acceptable level.
- Consequently, the disposal of the financial interest would be the only action appropriate to permit the firm to perform the engagement.
- M. PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO NON-FINANCIAL STATEMENT AUDIT ASSURANCE CLIENTS
- 59. If a firm has a direct financial interest in an assurance client that is not a financial statement audit client the self-interest threat created would be so significant no safeguard could reduce the threat to an acceptable level.
- Consequently, disposal of the financial interest would be the only action appropriate to permit the firm to perform the engagement.
- N. FEES AND PRICING FEES-RELATIVE
- 61. When the fees generated by an assurance client represents a large proportion of a firm's total fees, the dependence total on that client or client group and concern about the possibility of losing the client may create a self-interest threat.
- The significance of the threat will depend upon on; the structure of the firm and whether the firm is well established or newly created. Such safeguards for the threats might include —
  - (a) discussing the extent and nature of fees charged with the audit committee, or others charged with governance;
  - (b) taking steps to reduce dependency on the client;
  - (c) external quality control reviews; and

 (d) consulting a third party, such as a professional regulatory body or another professional accountant.

PART III: PROFESSIONAL ACCOUNTANTS IN BUSINESS OR PROFESSIONAL ACCOUNTANTS IN COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY, EMPLOYMENT AND PUBLIC SECTORS

- This Part provides how the conceptual framework is applied by professional accountants in business.
- A professional accountant in business has a responsibility to further the legitimate aims of their employing organization.
- 65. This Code does not seek to hinder a professional accountant in business from properly fulfilling that responsibility but considers circumstances in which conflicts may be created with the absolute duty to comply with the fundamental principles.
- Members in industry, employment, private and public sectors are required to comply with the provisions of the Act including the fundamental principles set out in this Schedule.
- A. THREATS AND SAFEGUARDS
- Compliance with the fundamental principles may potentially be threatened by a broad range of circumstances.
- 68. The threats fall into the following categories -
  - (a) Self-interest;
  - (b) Self-review;
  - (c) Advocacy;
  - (d) Familiarity; and
  - (e) Intimidation.
- Safeguards that may eliminate or reduce to an acceptable level the threats faced by professional accountants in business fall into two broad categories —
  - (a) Safeguards created by the profession;
  - (b) legislation or regulation; and
  - (c) safeguards in the work environment.

B. POTENTIAL CONFLICTS

- A professional accountant in business has a professional obligation to comply with the fundamental principles.
- There may be times, however, when their responsibilities to an employing organization and the professional obligations to comply with the fundamental principles are in conflict.
- Ordinarily, a professional accountant in business should support the legitimate and ethical objectives established by the employer and the rules and procedures in support of those objectives.

- 73. Nevertheless, where compliance with the fundamental principles is threatened, a professional accountant in business must consider a response to the circumstances.
- C. PREPARATION AND REPORTING OF INFORMATION
- 74. Professional accountants in business are often involved in the preparation and reporting of information that may either be made public or used by others inside or outside the employing organization.
- 75. Such information may include financial or management information,
- 76. A professional accountant in business should prepare or present such information fairly, honestly and in accordance with relevant professional standards so that the information will be understood in its context.
- 77. A member in industry, employment, private and public sectors shall prepare and present any financial information fully, honestly, professionally and in accordance with the relevant professional standards as issued and implemented by the Institute or other statutory body from time to time.
- 78. A member in industry, employment, private and public sectors shall -
  - (a) assist the employer to maintain all financial and non-financial information in a manner that describes clearly the true nature of business transaction, assets, liabilities; and
  - (b) record entries in a timely and proper manner as required by law and professional standards as issued and implemented by the Institute or other statutory body from time to time.
- 79. Threats to compliance with the fundamental principles may be created where a professional accountant in business may be pressured to become associated with misleading information or to become associated with misleading information through the actions of others. The significance of these threats will depend on factors such as the source of the pressure and the degree to which the information is, or may be, misleading.

D. INDUCEMENTS

- 80. A member in industry, employment, private and public sectors shall not receive an inducement in an attempt to unduly influence actions or decisions, encourage illegal or dishonest behavior or illegally obtain confidential information.
- 81. If there are circumstances that threaten a member in industry, employment, private and public sectors to be involved in receiving inducements, such member shall immediately report to higher levels of management or those in charge of governance of the employing organization.
- A member in industry, employment, private and public sector shall not offer an inducement to improperly influence professional judgment of a third party.
- E. PROFESSIONAL COMPETENCE
- 83. A member in industry, employment, private and public sector shall only undertake significant tasks for which the member has sufficient training and experience and where necessary seek assistance from relevant experts.
- 84. A member in industry, employment, private or public sector shall not -

- (a) intentionally seek employment without the requisite degree of expertise or experience; or
- (b) intentionally mislead the employer as to the degree of expertise or experience he possesses.
- F. PROFESSIONAL STANDARDS
- 85. A member in industry, employment, private or public sector owes a duty to the employer and the profession and shall not
  - (a) act contrary to the law or regulations;
  - (b) breach the rules and standards of the accountancy profession;
  - (c) intentionally mislead officers acting as auditors to the employer or the Institute;
  - (d) be involved in corrupt practices; or
  - (e) issue a financial or non-financial report that materially misrepresents facts including but not limited to financial statements, tax compliance, legal compliance or any reports required by regulators or the Institute.
- G. COMPLIANCE TO INTERNATIONAL CODE OF ETHICS FOR ACCOUNTANTS
- 86. A member shall, in addition to the provisions of this Code, comply with the prescribed code of ethics for professional accountants as issued by the International Federation of Accountants through the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants from time to time and any other applicable regulatory international and Institute pronouncements or standards.

  - (c) any attempt to abuse a position of power, privilege or influence, including any offer of reward or threat to refuse to pay a penalty properly imposed by the Secretariat for errant behaviour by me or my supporters during campaigns and voting;
  - (d) and deter my supporters and agents from conducting campaigns and speeches in any Continuing Professional Development forums of the Institute before and during the election period.
- To avoid, eliminate and stop plagiarizing the opponent's messages, posters and discourage and prevent the removal, disfigurement or destruction of campaign materials of any contestants.

- To restrain members who knowingly or by design use derogatory and defamatory communication or material, literature or and other campaign materials in whatever medium.
- 14. To avoid -
  - (a) any discrimination based on age, race, gender, tribe or place of origin or residence or other local connection, political opinion, colour, creed or sex in connection with the election activity;
  - (b) to avoid sponsorship to any Institute forums by a candidate or by the employers of the candidates.
- 15. To acknowledge the Secretariat's authority in the conduct of election, ensure the attendance and participation of representatives at meetings of any Returning Officer and other forums convened by the Secretariat in dispute resolution, respect and honor fines or any condition imposed on my candidature due to misconduct and unbecoming campaign behaviour by me or my supporters during campaign for votes.
- 16. To facilitate the Secretariat's right of access through the Returning Officer, Election Panel and other official observers and other representatives to all public meetings or other electoral activities and co-operate in the official investigation of issues and allegations arising during any election period.
- 17. To take reasonable steps to discipline, stop and control my agents, employees, candidates, members and supporters from infringing this Code, engaging in activities of commission or omission which amount to offences under the electoral laws or otherwise for not observing this code or contravening or failing to comply with any provision of the electoral laws.
- Without prejudice to any other rights, to accept the final outcome of the election and the Returning Officer's declaration and certification of the results thereof.
- Not to give interviews other than those given in a non professional capacity to a newspaper or electronic media.
- A manifesto or circular issued shall conform to the following requirements in the interest of maintaining dignity in the election, namely —
  - (a) a manifesto or circular shall contain information regarding the candidate himself and shall not make any reference, directly or indirectly, to any other candidate:
  - (b) the distribution of a manifesto or circular shall be restricted only to the members of the Institute;
  - (c) a certified copy of such manifesto or circular shall be sent to the Returning Officer vie email within two days after its issue.
- 21. In the event of having any specific complaint or problems regarding the conduct of the elections, the matter to be first reported to the Returning Officer for determination. In so determining, the Scrutineers Panel shall consider the matter and the decision of the Panel shall be final. Any candidate who contravenes the Election Code of Conduct during the election period and who shall in the conduct of elections bring the Institute into disrepute shall be subject to the Institutes Disciplinary Process.

- 22. Notwithstanding paragraph 9, where, in the opinion of the Returning Officer and on sufficient presentation of evidence, I or my supporters and agents have contravened or the members nominating me has contravened or infringed on any of the provisions of this Code, I will be liable to have committed an electoral offence and may be liable to the following penalties or may be disqualified from the elections or both. #### THE NATIONAL TREASURY AND PLANNING

THE REGULATORY IMPACT STATEMENT

In the matter of Public Participation on The Draft-

- 1. Accountants Regulations, 2021;
- Accountants (Professional Practice And Ethical Conduct) Regulations, 2021;
  - 3. Accountants (Quality Assurance Review) Regulations, 2021.
  - 4. Accountants (Examinations) Rules, 2021; and
  - 5. Accountants (Remuneration) Order, 2021.

- The objectives of and reasons for the proposed sets of Accountants Regulations are mainly the following:
  - (a) to provide for means of administering the Accountants Act, 2008 by the Cabinet Secretary with respect matters affecting the operations of the Institute and practice by members of the Institute; and the administration and management of the Examinations Board;
  - (b) to provide for means of administering the Accountants Act, 2008 by the Council of the Institute with respect to matters affecting the operations of the Institute and practice by members of the Institute; and set standards of professional practice and ethical conduct;
  - (c) to provide governance framework/rules on matters relating to the administration, management and conduct of examinations offered and accreditation of institutions offering training in subjects examinable by the Examinations Board, in accordance with the Accountants Act, 2008; and
  - (d) to provide for a framework to monitor compliance with professional, quality assurance and other standards published by the Council for observance by the members of the Institute.
- (2) The effect of the proposed sets of Accountants Regulations includes the following:
  - (a) It is expected that enactment and implementation of these regulations will facilitate Government execute its role in the regulation of the accountancy profession while ensuring that such regulation achieves public interest objective at the lowest possible cost while safeguarding quality and consistency, in the supply of accountancy service;
  - (b) Create training and employment opportunities to accountancy professionals in Kenya through the guarantee of a rebate of up to 20% of the firm's annual license fees to any firm offering practical work experience for associate members or trainee accountants for a period of two years;
  - (c) Minimize Professional Misconduct in the Accountancy profession through the measures prescribed to deal with such professional misconduct and promote financial accountability in Kenya. These regulations will in essence enable the Institute deal with public interest issue on fraud, misappropriation of funds and any other unethical behaviours in both private and public sectors of the economy.
  - (d) Secure regional and global presence of the Kenya's accountancy professionals through the regional and international preferential treaties with regard to mobility of labour.
  - (e) Safe guard the quality and credibility of the examinations on accountancy and regulate the Institutions that offer examinations on accountancy through accreditation and strict monitoring including prescription to deal with for any compromise on examinations credibility;
  - (f) The regulations have placed standards and predictable fees or various licensing regimes of accountancy profession practice thus guaranteeing predictability while at the same time providing for revenue streams of the Institute and the Examinations Board;
  - (g) These regulations envisage to foster regional integration efforts by the government through provision of subsidized license fees for individuals and firms from the East African Community, who would wish to apply and practice in the country;
  - (h) The regulations have put in place an appropriate system for monitoring the performance of the bodies charged with regulating the accountancy profession in the country and aligned tenets of accountancy practice to global best practices, with focus on outcomes, in this case overall quality and consistency of accountancy services;
  - (i) Ensured coverage of the entry and licensing requirements including education and on-going professional development requirements, monitoring of the behavior and performance of professional accountants, the standards including ethical standards, that professional accountants must meet; the discipline systems and procedures for those individuals and firms that fail to meet such requirements;

- (j) Almost all the gaps in the Accountants Act, save for areas which require amendments to the Act have been fully espoused by these regulations thus guaranteeing full implementation of the Accountants Act, 2008;
- (k) These regulations have accorded Government a stakeholder driven understanding the nature and characteristics of issues of the accountancy profession and qualification process that should be regulated and identified clear policy recommendations on the issues to be addressed; and
- (1) These regulations have accorded Government with the flexibility to explore ways to amend legislation and regulation seamlessly where circumstances require, directly and through the Institute and the Examinations Board.
- (3) Possible alternative and practicable means of achieving the foregoing objectives, including other regulatory as well as nonregulatory options:
  - (a) An alternative to operationalization of the Accountants Act, 2008 would have been to leave the Council of the Institute and the Examinations Board, through resolutions and consultations with the Minister, handle specific matters case by case and on a need basis. This alternative is highly depended on the good will of the institutions and neutrality in the leadership and oversight of Institute the Examinations Board;
  - (b) The alternative to the role of Government to execute the regulation of the accountancy profession while ensuring that such regulation achieves public interest, would have been to allow the Institute and the Examinations Board to make such decisions through their leadership and oversight bodies established in the Accountants Act, 2008, however the bearing maybe;
  - (c) The alternative to administration and management of the operations of the institute and practice by members of the Institute including setting standards of professional practice and ethical conduct, would have been left to the decisions of the Council of the institute guided by several pieces of Bylaws, Guidelines and Council resolutions, which have no bearing in law in accordance with the provisions of the Statutory Instruments Act, 2013;
  - (d) The alternative to governance on matters relating to the administration, management and conduct of examinations offered and accreditation of institutions offering training in subjects examinable by the Examinations Board, in accordance with the Accountants Act, 2008, would have been allowed through various pieces of By-laws, Guidelines and Council resolutions, which have no bearing in law in accordance with the provisions of the Statutory Instruments Act, 2013;
  - (e) The alternative to monitoring compliance with professional, quality assurance and other standards published by the Council for observance by the members of the Institute, would have been left to the discretion of the council and the prescribed International Federation of Accountants guidelines, which are not domesticated to fit into the Kenyan work and academic environment; and
  - (f) The alternative to a prescribed, benchmarked and predictable licensing fees regime for the individual and firms form the country, region and the globe at large willing to set practicing operations in Kenya, would have been left to the decisions of the Council and the Examinations Board trough resolutions or existing fragmented pieces of bylaws and guidelines.
- (4) Assessment of the costs and benefits of the proposed sets of the Accountants Regulations and of any other practicable means of achieving the same objectives;
  - (a) It is expected that enactment and implementation of these regulations will facilitate Government execute its role in the regulation of the accountancy profession while ensuring that such regulation achieves public interest objective at the lowest possible cost while safeguarding quality and consistency of quality, in the supply of accountancy services; Enactment and implementation of these regulations will guarantee full implementation of the Accountants Act, 2008 and bring forth legal legitimacy of the existing By-laws, Guidelines and resolutions of the Council of the Institute and the Examinations Board as required by the Statutory Instruments Act, 2013;

- (b) Enactment and implementation of these regulations will guarantee sound regulatory framework for the accountancy profession in Kenya, adherence to internationally recognised standards and code of ethics for the accountancy profession, and secure the accountants professionals from the country a place or recognition in the global arena;
- (c) With the predictable licencing and fees regimes prescribed in these regulations, their enactment and implementation would not only guarantee stable revenue streams for the Institute and the Examinations Board, but also place Kenya as a globally completive destination for accountancy profession and enhance global confidence in ease of doing business in the country; and
- (d) Enactment and implementation of these regulations will guarantee quality of accountancy services, enhance compliance and strict adherence to controls thereby assist in fighting corruption and fraud in institutions and support the larger government agenda of promoting financial accountability in the country.
- (5) Any other matters specified by the guidelines;

Overall, the net impact of the proposed regulatory rule is positive on practice of the accountancy profession in Kenya and beyond including qualifications for the profession.

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM FOR THE ACCOUNTANTS (STANDARDS OF PROFESSIONAL PRACTICE AND ETHICAL CONDUCT) REGULATIONS, 2022

The Purpose of Accountants (Standards of Professional Practice and Ethical Conduct) Regulations, 2022.

- 1. The objects and purpose of these Regulations shall be to provide for means of administering the Accountants Act, 2008 by the Cabinet Secretary for the National Treasury and Planning and the Council of the Institute of Certified Public Accountants of Kenya with respect to monitoring compliance with professional, quality assurance and other standards published by the Council for observance by the members of the Institute.
- 2. Particularly, the Accountants (Standards of Professional Practice and Ethical Conduct)

Regulations, 2022 seek to make provisions for: -

- a) Standards of professional practice and ethical guidelines in the accountancy profession;
- Standards of professional practice including accountancy standards in accordance with section 9(3) of the Act;
- c) Guidelines on continuous professional development for its members in practice;
- d) Guidelines on accountancy practice for its members in practice;
- e) Guidelines on ethical marketing and publicity in the accountancy profession in line with section 30(1)(e) of the Act;
- f) Framework for dispute resolution for its members;
- g) Procedure for the conduct of the meetings of the Institute and the Council; and
- Requirements for the conferment of fellowship and honorary fellowship for its members in line with sections 4 and 6 of the Act.

II. The Legislative Context:

- Article 201 of the Constitution provides for principles of public finance, key among them openness and accountability, including public participation in financial matters; and that the public finance system shall promote an equitable society, and in particular public money shall be used in a prudent and responsible way; and financial management shall be responsible, and fiscal reporting shall be clear.
- 2. The Institute of Certified Public Accountants of Kenya and Kenya Accountants and Secretaries National Examinations Board are established by an Act of Parliament The Kenya Accountants and Secretaries National Examinations Board has been in existence since 1969 while the of Certified Public Accountants of Kenya has been in existence since 1978.

- 3. Section 2 of the Accountants Act, 2008 defines accountancy to mean practice in accounting, financial reporting, control systems, systems auditing, auditing, assurance, forensic accounting and auditing, finance, financial management, public finance management, taxation, financial risk management, management accounting and advisory services related thereto. These Regulations are meant to regulate the behavior of professional accountants while offering Accountancy services to the public.
- 4. In this regard, and line with the International Federation of Accountants, there is need to align the Kenyan accountancy professional standards and code of conduct to global best standards. The Government therefore needs to understand areas that require to be regulated in the accountancy profession to ensure that such a regulation is effective, efficient and in the public interest.
- The Act has undergone several amendments including the latest in 2020 to address respective gaps that have been identified over time.
- 6. According to the Statutory Instruments Act, 2013 a statutory instrument" among others means, ..... regulation, form, tariff of costs or fees, by-law, guideline or other statutory instrument issued, made or established in the execution of a power conferred by or under an Act of Parliament under which that statutory instrument or subsidiary legislation is expressly authorized to be issued.
- In this regard, these Regulations have been subjected to extensive pubic consultations to meet the threshold set out in the Statutory Instruments Act, 2013.
- 8. The National Assembly, under sections 9(4) of the Accountants Act, 2008 delegated the duty to the Council of the Institute to make Regulations prescribing professional practice and ethical conduct of members of the Institute practicing professional accountancy in Kenya. To this end, these Regulations shall be anchored under this section.
- 9. The Council of the Institute of Certified Public Accountants of Kenya has therefore fully complied with the provisions of the Constitution, the Public Finance Management Act, 2012 and the Statutory Instruments Act, 2013 on the requirement for public consultations while preparing these Regulations.

III. Policy Context

1. Since the enactment of the Accountants Act, 2008, the Accountancy profession has gone through a period of transformation and growth. The Act was enacted to govern the practice of accountancy with specific objectives of establishing key regulatory institutions notably the Institute of Certified Public Accountants of Kenya and the Kenya Accountants and Secretaries

National Examinations Board and ensuring membership of the ICPAK Council and Examinations Board is diversified by including persons with responsibility in Government.

- 2. The Institute of Certified Public Accountants of Kenya is a regulatory body mandated to regulate and coordinate the activities of qualified and registered Certified Public Accountants in Kenya including promoting research into the subject of accountancy and finance and related matters, publication of books, periodicals, journals and articles in connection therewith; promoting the international recognition of the Institute, advising the Kenya Accountants and Secretaries National Examinations Board on matters relating to examinations standards and policies, advising the Cabinet Secretary for National Treasury and Planning on matters relating to financial accountability in all sectors of the economy and setting and enforcing standards of professional practice such as accounting, auditing and ethical standards.
- 3. Over their long history, the Institute of Certified Public Accountants of Kenya has registered over 23,322 members while the Kenya Accountants and Secretaries National Examinations Board has trained over 500,000 accountants and other professionals. Membership of the Institute work in diverse sectors of the economy as accountants, financial experts, auditors, tax consultants and financial consultants among others. Over 500 of members of the Institute have emigrated and are working beyond the borders of Kenya. Total number of 355 the Institute's members are working in EAC Countries- Tanzania, Uganda, Rwanda and Burundi; 200 of the Institute's members are in other Africa Countries- Zambia, South Africa, Cameroun and any other; and 996 of its members in other continents- Europe- UK, Australia, US/Canada.
- 4. Members of the Institute are present in 41 different countries around the globe while the Kenya Accountants and Secretaries National Examinations Board is offering its examinations in the region and various zones in the globe. Therefore, it can be confirmed that both institutions have gained global recognition and have substantial market share. This has enabled the Kenyan professional accountants to take advantage of the regional and international preferential treaties with regard to mobility of labour.
- 5. The accountancy profession provides an important public service, and as such it is imperative it serves and acts in the public interest. In this regard, these Regulations have captured the desired good principles of regulating professional bodies by ensuring that: -
  - a. the Regulations are proportionate, transparent, non-discriminatory, targeted, implementable in a consistent and fair manner;
  - the Regulations are not anti-competitive and their benefits to the economy and society out-weigh the costs of the regulation of the profession;
  - the Regulations cover the entry and licensing requirements including education and on-going professional development requirements, monitoring of the

- behavior and performance of professional accountants, the ethical standards that professional accountants must meet; the discipline systems and procedures for those who fail to meet the requirements;
- d. the Regulations have provided for a different range of regulatory practices including the quality assurance reviews of individual professional accountants, enforcement of professional and ethical standards by professional accountancy organizations and other regulatory bodies;
- fulfillment of obligations of the International Federation of Accountants (IFAC)
   Membership by the Institute of Certified Public Accountants of Kenya and public oversight by external regulatory bodies; and
- f. the cost of implementing the Accountants (Standards of Professional Practice and Ethical Conduct) Regulations, 2022 is kept at the minimum in order to secure public interest and support the ease of doing business in our great nation.
- 6. It is expected that enactment of these Regulations will facilitate the Council of the Institute of Certified Public Accountants of Kenya execute its role in the regulation of the accountancy profession while ensuring that such regulation achieves public interest objective at the lowest possible cost as well as safeguarding quality and consistency of quality, in the supply of accountancy services.

IV. Public Consultations

- A Multi-Agency Taskforce comprising representatives of the National Treasury and Planning, the Institute of Certified Public Accountants of Kenya, Kenya Accountants and Secretaries National Examinations Board and the Office of the Hon. Attorney General was constituted to develop regulations to the Accountants Act for consideration by Parliament.
- 2. The Multi-Agency Taskforce mapped out respective key stakeholders and prepared the Interest/Influence matrix to facilitate the engagement with key stakeholders and the general public. Additionally, the role of each stakeholder and timelines to be consulted in terms of preregulations and post-regulations period, were established.
- 3. To this end, the role of scholars such as Universities teaching Bachelor of Commerce was sought in writing to input into this process as well as the Public Service Commission, umbrella body of County Public Service Boards, Kenya Federation of Employers (FKE) and Kenya Private Sector Alliance (KEPSA), prior to commencement in drafting of these Regulations.
- 4. Extensive consultations have been conducted during preparation and finalization of the Accountants (Standards of Professional Practice and Ethical Conduct) Regulations, 2022. The nationwide public consultations on the draft Accountants (Standards of Professional Practice and Ethical Conduct) Regulations, 2022 were organized and scheduled for all the key stakeholders and their input taken into account in as far as possible before finalization of these Regulations.

- 5. The key stakeholders that were consulted included: non-practising members of the Institute; local and diaspora practising members of the Institute; Education Regulators, such as Commission for University Education, TVET Authority, Kenya National Qualifications Authority and Training Institutions such as Universities and Middle-Level Colleges; Financial Regulators such as CMA, CBK, IRA, RBA, SASRA, among others; Public Service Commission, County Service Boards, FKE, KEPSA and KAM and the general public.
- 6. All the key stakeholders were consulted through physical and virtual meetings; and with strict compliance of the Ministry of Health guidelines on containment of COVID-19 pandemic. In addition, written memoranda were received from various stakeholders.
- 7. The stakeholders submitted four (4) comments proposing amendment of the Accountants (Standards of Professional Practice and Ethical Conduct) Regulations, 2022. The Taskforce analyzed the comments and:
  - a. accepted one (1) as proposed;
  - b. accepted two (2) with modifications; and
  - c. did not accept one (1) with justification.

V. Policy Guidance

The National Treasury and Planning and the Council of the Institute of Certified Public Accountants of Kenya will sensitize key stakeholders including Parliament, practitioners, employers, educationists, regulatory institutions and the general public on Accountants (Standards of Professional Practice and Ethical Conduct) Regulations, 2022.

VI. Regulatory Impact Assessment

A Regulatory Impact Assessment is attached to this memorandum in Annex A. The Regulations will have minimal impact on the public sector and private sectors, as they are being implemented in form of By-Laws and Guidelines.

VII. Performance Monitoring and Evaluation of the Accountants Regulations

 The National Treasury and Planning and the Council of the Institute of Certified Public Accountants of Kenya shall monitor the application, adherence and enforcement of the Accountants (Standards of Professional Practice and Ethical Conduct) Regulations, 2022 including provisions of the respective Schedules thereof.

2. This will be done through periodic reviews to establish, among others, compliance with the prescribed code of ethics and professional standards and reports on governance.

VIII. Contact Persons

The contact person at the National Treasury & Planning is the Cabinet Secretary, Hon. (Amb.) Ukur Yatani, EGH or the Principal Secretary, Dr. Julius Muia, PhD, CBS; and the contact person of the Council of the Institute shall be the Chairperson, FCPA George Mokua or the Chief Executive Officer, CPA Edwin Makori.

Section 2 of the Accountants Act, 2008 defines accountancy to mean practice in accounting, financial reporting, control systems, systems auditing, auditing, assurance, forensic accounting and auditing, finance, financial management, public finance management, taxation, financial risk management, management accounting and advisory services related thereto. These Rules are meant to regulate the behavior of professional accountants while offering accountancy services to the public.
- 4. In this regard, and in line with the International Federation of Accountants, there is need to align the Kenyan accountancy professional standards and code of conduct to global best standards. The Government therefore needs to understand areas that require to be regulated in the accountancy profession to ensure that such regulation is effective, efficient and in the public interest.
- The Act has undergone several amendments including the latest in 2020 to address respective gaps that have been identified over time.
- 6. According to the Statutory Instruments Act, 2013 a statutory instrument" among others means, ..... regulation, form, tariff of costs or fees, by-law, guideline or other statutory instrument issued, made or established in the execution of a power conferred by or under an Act of Parliament under which that statutory instrument or subsidiary legislation is expressly authorized to be issued.
- 7. In this regard, these Rules have been subjected to extensive public consultations to meet the threshold set out in the Statutory Instruments Act, 2013.
- 8. The National Assembly, under Section 17 of the Accountants Act, 2008, delegated the duty to the Kenya Accountants and Secretaries National Examinations Board to make rules prescribing the administration, management and conduct of the examinations of Kenya Accountants and Secretaries National Examinations Board under the provisions of the Act. To this end, these Rules shall be anchored under this section.
- 9. The National Treasury and Planning and the Kenya Accountants and Secretaries National Examinations Board have therefore fully complied with the provisions of the Constitution, Public Finance Management Act, 2012 and the Statutory Instruments Act, 2013 on the requirement for public consultations while preparing these Rules.

III. Policy Context

Since the enactment of the Accountants Act, 2008, the accountants profession has gone through a period of transformation and growth. The Act was enacted to govern the practice of accountancy with specific objectives of establishing key regulatory institutions notably the Institute of Certified Public Accountants of Kenya and the Kenya Accountants and Secretaries National Examinations Board and ensuring membership of the ICPAK Council and Examinations Board is diversified by including persons with responsibility in Government.

- 2. Over their long history, the Institute of Certified Public Accountants of Kenya has registered over 23,322 members while the Kenya Accountants and Secretaries National Examinations Board has trained over 500,000 accountants and other professionals. Membership of the Institute work in diverse sectors of the economy as accountants, financial experts, auditors, tax consultants and financial consultants among others. Over 500 of members of the Institute have emigrated and are working beyond the borders of Kenya. Total number of 355 the Institute's members are working in EAC Countries- Tanzania, Uganda, Rwanda and Burundi; 200 of the Institute's members are in other Africa Countries- Zambia, South Africa, Cameroun and any other; and 996 of its members in other continents- Europe- UK, Australia, US/Canada.
- 3. Members of the Institute of Certified Public Accountants of Kenya are present in 41 different countries around the globe while the Kenya Accountants and Secretaries National Examinations Board is offering its examinations in the region and various zones in the globe. Therefore, it can be confirmed that both institutions have gained global recognition and have substantial market share. This has enabled the Kenyan professional accountants to take advantage of the regional and international preferential treaties with regard to mobility of labour.
- 4. The accountancy profession provides an important public service, and as such it is imperative it serves and acts in the public interest. In this regard, these Rules have captured the desired good principles of regulating professional bodies by ensuring that: -
  - a. the Rules are proportionate, transparent, non-discriminatory, targeted, implementable in a consistent and fair manner;
  - the Rules are not anti-competitive and their benefits to the economy and society out-weigh the costs of the regulation of the profession;
  - fulfillment of obligations of the International Federation of Accountants (IFAC)
     Membership by the Institute of Certified Public Accountants of Kenya and public oversight by external regulatory bodies; and
  - d. the cost of implementing the Accountants (Examinations) Rules, 2022 is kept at the minimum in order to secure public interest and support the ease of doing business in our great nation.
- 5. It is expected that enactment of these Rules will facilitate the Kenya Accountants and Secretaries National Examinations Board to execute its role in the regulation of examinations of the accountancy profession while ensuring that such regulation achieves public interests.

objective at the lowest possible cost while safeguarding quality and consistency of quality, in the supply of accountancy services.

According to the Statutory Instruments Act, 2013 a statutory instrument" among others means, ..... regulation, form, tariff of costs or fees, by-law, guideline or other statutory instrument issued, made or established in the execution of a power conferred by or under an Act of Parliament under which that statutory instrument or subsidiary legislation is expressly authorized to be issued.
- In this regard, these Regulations have been subjected to extensive pubic consultations to meet the threshold set out in the Statutory Instruments Act, 2013.
- 8. The National Assembly, under section 46 of the Accountants Act, 2008, delegated the duty to the Minister to make regulations prescribing anything that is required to be prescribed under the provisions of the Act. To this end, these Regulations shall be anchored under this section.

The National Treasury and Planning has therefore fully complied with the provisions of the Statutory Instruments Act, 2013 on requirement for public consultations while preparing these Regulations.

III. Policy Context

- 1. Since the enactment of the Accountants Act, 2008, the accountancy profession has gone through a period of transformation and growth. The Act was enacted to govern the practice of accountancy with specific objectives of establishing key regulatory institutions, notably the Institute of Certified Public Accountants of Kenya and the Kenya Accountants and Secretaries National Examinations Board and ensuring membership of the ICPAK Council and Examinations Board is diversified by including persons with responsibility in Government
- 2. The Institute of Certified Public Accountants of Kenya is a regulatory body mandated to regulate and coordinate the activities of qualified and registered Certified Public Accountants in Kenya including promoting research into the subject of accountancy and finance and related matters, publication of books, periodicals, journals and articles in connection therewith; promoting the international recognition of the Institute, advising the Kenya Accountants and Secretaries National Examinations Board on matters relating to examinations standards and policies, advising the Cabinet Secretary for National Treasury and Planning on matters relating to financial accountability in all sectors of the economy and setting and enforcing standards of professional practice such as accounting, auditing and ethical standards.
- 3. Over their long history, the Institute of Certified Public Accountants of Kenya has registered over 23,322 members while the Kenya Accountants and Secretaries National Examinations Board has trained over 500,000 accountants and other professionals. Membership of the Institute work in diverse sectors of the economy as accountants, financial experts, auditors, tax consultants and financial consultants among others. Over 500 of members of the Institute have emigrated and are working beyond the borders of Kenya. Total number of 355 the Institute's members are working in EAC Countries- Tanzania, Uganda, Rwanda and Burundi; 200 of the Institute's members are in other Africa Countries- Zambia, South Africa, Cameroun and any other; and 996 of its members in other continents- Europe- UK, Australia, US/Canada.
- 4. Members of the Institute are present in 41 different countries around the globe while Kenya Accountants and Secretaries National Examinations Board is offering its examinations in the region and various zones in the globe. Therefore, it can be confirmed that both institutions have gained global recognition and have substantial market share. This has enabled the Kenyan professional accountants to take advantage of the regional and international preferential treaties with regard to mobility of labour.

- 5. The accounting profession provides an important public service, and as such it is imperative it serves and acts in the public interest. In this regard, these regulations have captured the desired good principles of regulating professional bodies by ensuring that: -
  - a. the Regulations are proportionate, transparent, non-discriminatory, targeted, implementable in a consistent and fair manner;
  - the Regulations are not anti-competitive and their benefits to the economy and society out-weigh the costs of the regulation of the profession;
  - c. the Regulations cover the entry and licensing requirements, including education and on-going professional development requirements, monitoring of the behavior and performance of professional accountants, the ethical standards that professional accountants must meet; the discipline systems and procedures for those who fail to meet the requirements;
    - d. the Regulations have provided for different range of regulatory practices including the quality assurance reviews of individual professional accountants, enforcement of professional and ethical standards by professional accountancy organizations and other regulatory bodies;
  - fulfillment of obligations of International Federation of Accountants (IFAC) Membership by the Institute of Certified Public Accountants of Kenya and public oversight by external regulatory bodies; and
  - f. the cost of implementing the Accountants Regulations, 2022 is kept at the minimum in order to secure public interest and support the ease of doing business in our great nation.
- 6. It is expected that enactment of these Regulations will facilitate Government execute its role in the regulation of the accountancy profession while ensuring that such regulation achieves public interest objective at the lowest possible cost while safeguarding quality and consistency of quality, in the supply of accountancy services.

IV. Public Consultations

- A Multi-Agency Taskforce comprising representatives of the National Treasury and Planning, the Institute of Certified Accountants of Kenya, Kenya Accountants and Secretaries National Examinations Board and the Office of the Hon. Attorney General was constituted to develop regulations to the Accountants Act for consideration by Parliament.
- The Multi-Agency Taskforce mapped out respective key stakeholders and prepared the Interest/Influence matrix to facilitate the engagement with key stakeholders and the general public. Additionally, the role of each stakeholder and timelines to be consulted in terms of preregulations and post-regulations period, were established.

- 3. To this end, the role of scholars such as Universities teaching Bachelor of Commerce was sought in writing to input into this process as well as the Public Service Commission, umbrella body of County Public Service Boards, Kenya Federation of Employers (FKE) and Kenya Private Sector Alliance (KEPSA), prior to commencement in drafting of these regulations.
- 4. Extensive consultations have been conducted during preparation and finalization of the Accountants Regulations, 2022. The nationwide public consultations on the draft Accountants Regulations were organized and scheduled for all the key stakeholders and their input taken into account in as far as possible before finalization of these Regulations
  - 5. The key stakeholders that were consulted included: non-practising members of the Institute; local and diaspora practising members of the Institute; Education Regulators, such as Commission for University Education, TVET Authority, Kenya National Qualifications Authority and Training Institutions such as Universities and Middle-Level Colleges; Financial Regulators such as CMA, CBK, IRA, RBA, SASRA, among others; Public Service Commission, County Service Boards, FKE, KEPSA and KAM and the general public.
- 6. All the key stakeholders were consulted through physical and virtual meetings; and with strict compliance of the Ministry of Health guidelines on containment of COVID-19 pandemic. In addition, written memoranda were received from various stakeholders.
- 7. The stakeholders submitted eighty (80) comments proposing amendment of the Accountants Regulations, 2022. The Taskforce analyzed the comments and:
  - a. accepted eleven (11) as proposed;
  - b. accepted twenty-five (25) with modifications; and
  - c. did not accept forty-four (44) with justification.

V. Policy Guidance

The National Treasury and Planning, Institute of Certified Public Accountants of Kenya and Kenya Accountants and Secretaries National Examinations Board will sensitize key stakeholders including Parliament, practitioners, employers, educationists and regulatory institutions and the general public on the Accountants Regulations, 2022.

VI. Regulatory Impact Assessment

A Regulatory Impact Assessment is attached to this memorandum in Annex A. The Regulations will have an impact on the public sector, as the national authorities will have to administer the Regulations through certification and enforcement. However, the costs of this new requirement are not expected to be significant.

VII. Performance Monitoring and Evaluation of the Accountants Regulations

- The National Treasury and Planning, Institute of Certified Public Accountants of Kenya and Kenya Accountants and Secretaries National Examinations Board shall monitor the application, adherence and enforcement of the Accountants Regulations, 2022 including provisions of the respective Schedules thereof.
- This will be done through periodic reviews to establish among others compliance with the prescribed code of ethics and professional standards, maintenance of the accreditation standards, quality of examinations, reports on governance among others.

New system to integrate data on public servants out soon

BY BRIAN KOCHWA

The State Department for Public Service is in the final stages of unveiling a unified human resource information system which will help integrate public servants' information into one platform.

Consolidating Human Resource data and automating the Human Resource Management function on a unified platform is expected to, among other benefits, standardize Human Resource practices across the public service, minimize manual Human Resource processes, and create a trusted single source of Human Resource information for decisionmaking purposes.

In her remarks during the official opening of a 3-day workshop for the 2nd and final validation of the system held at Kenya School of Government, the State Department for Public Service Principal Secretary, Mrs Mary Kimonye said the development of the new-system is an incredible milestone for the public service as it will help in monitoring areas that have had challenges in the past. The Principal Secretary highlighted the need to validate user requirements. "As stakeholders, it is important for you to validate and document comprehensive user requirements for the Unified Human Resource Software," she said. In January 2021, the State Department for Public Service appointed a task force of software developers to undertake the review and overhaul the existing Human Resource software known as Government Human Resource Information System (GHRIS). The task force produced a prototype of the Unified Human Resource (UHR) information system in April 2021 which underwent the initial validation on 4th May 2021 by Internal stakeholders comprising the GHRIS Implementation Steering Committee, Human Resource Process owners, as well as Heads of Departments and Units. Subsequently, the task force has constructed to full functionality three (3) modules prioritized for the 2020/2021 financial year namely Payroll Administration, Leave Management and Pension Claiming.

The workshop was at-

Government allocates Sh2B to combat on-going drought

CS Wamalwa says Kenya is facing drought as a result of the short rains that failed between October and December 2020 while the long rains expected between March and May 2021 were below average across the country

BY JOSEPH NG'ANG'A

The Government has released Shs.2 billion under the National Drought Emergency Fund to be used in the fight against the ongoing drought situation in the country.

According to the Ministry of Devolution and ASALs Cabinet Secretary (CS), Eugene Wamalwa, Kenya is facing drought as a result of the short rains that failed between October and December 2020 as well as the long rains expected between March and May 2021 that were below average across the country particularly in the Northern and

Coast regions
"Experts from the meteorological department anticipate that the short rains in October are likely to fail and if this happens, Kenya is likely to face an emergency with drought afflicting most of Northern Kenya and the coastal region," said Wamalwa.

Speaking during an interview with KNA, Wamalwa said that so far, over 10 counties are affected heavily including Turkana, Marsabit, Garissa, Wajir, Mandera, Isiolo, Samburu, Tana River, Kilifi and Lamu.

"We estimate that two million Kenyans are affected and as the national government, we are doing everything to support these families by cushioning the most vulnerable people in the counties most affected by the drought," said Wamalwa.

He said they are providing hunger safety nets that cushion over 100, 000 households in the four counties of Turkana, Marsabit, Wajir and Mandera which are the most affected.

Wamalwa highlighted that the government is expanding these safety nets to cover Garissa, Tana River, Samburu and Isiolo and these will bring those covered to eight counties and an additional 32, 000 households.

"We are also supporting counties in water trucking and so far, we have released $h500 million that will go towards supporting these counties and ensuring they take water to the affected families most of whom are pastoralists," said Wamalwa. "Since 2011 when we had the worst drought in this region, we formed the Ending Drought Emergency Strategy to bring together countries in the Horn of Africa and the Intergovernmental Authority on Development (IGAD) region to ensure we put in place institutional and legal frameworks to combat drought and we have done so well as a country through the National Drought Management Authority (NDMA) where we have institutionalized responses to drought," said the CS. Wamiwa said that through these efforts, the country was awarded the resilience champion of the IGAD region and other countries are benchmarking with Kenya to see how the institutionalization of the drought management is being conducted.

He added that through the National Drought Emergency Fund they have set aside about Sh2 billion which is about 50 percent of the fund going towards resilience building with 40 percent of the fund going into improving response to drought and five percent will go towards recovery in areas where there are effects of drought.

tate commits to conserve ecosystem, lower greenhouse effect

BY ALICE GWORD (KNA)

The Director of Climate Change in the Ministry of Environment, Dr Pacifica Ogola has underlined the Government's commitment and responsibility towards climate justice even as the country seeks to meet her industrialization objectives.

Ogola who was speaking while opening the Najrobi Summer School on Climate Justice said, Kenya is alive to the benefits of industrialization but also noted that a move towards a net zero carbon emission to lower greenhouse effects will be done without undermining the human rights on Job provision and development.

"The Government is fully involved in discussions around just transition," she said, adding that The Summer School on Climate Justice aims to build the capacities of a critical mass of actors from a variety of fields including grassroot voices.

Speaking on Summer School on Climate Justice, Mr. Mithika Mwenda, the Executive Director, Pan African Climate Justice Alliance (PACJA) said, the Summer School is a platform to usher voices from the grassroot communities to the international arena where they have missed being heard.

Mwenda explained that PACIA has stepped up its longterm ambition of changing the narrative around climate change impacts in Africa by launching the first ever School on Climate Justice.

"Climate justice is no longer an abstract concept: it is now a global public agenda. How ever, voices from the Global South and Africa in particular, where climate injustices prevail, remain inaudible in global discussions," said Mwenda.

He added that by initiating a School on Climate Justice. PACIA is trying to correct an existing anomaly.

"As it is now, academics and philanthropists from the Global North generally shape the narratives and debates on climate justice with limited presence and representation of the Global South. Most importantly, the voices of frontline communities, who bear the devastating impacts of climate change, continue to miss out from climate justice debates. This is what we want changed," said Mwenda. Sylvia Wachira, coordinator of the Summer School noted that while there are many efforts by academics, advocacy groups and other non-state actors who advance research, scholarship and mobilization on Environmental and Climate Justice, such interventions, however, are yet to take off in the Global South, particularly the continent of Africa, in a systematic and sustained way.

"There are also concerns that the content of programs developed for university courses in the Global North does not adequately represent the contexts and challenges of frontline communities.,
